Message

from National President

JCI always tells the members that we should be active, we should create impacts and positive change to ourselves and others and we should show our community that we are capable of providing different opportunities and services to others.

The past two years were tough for every JCI members and organizations. Although the world changed a lot, I believe we can overcome all the difficulties and advance the new normal, with our JC spirit and our faith.

In the JCI Academy, we learned that leader needs to "be the shine" and lead the way for followers to contribute our community, therefore, I am asking every member of JCI Macao to raise the awareness of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UNSDGs) and JCI Rise, and share these goals as well as concepts to the general public.

In 2022, let's recover ourselves, reunion members and restart our International affairs projects together.

Message from JCI President

"This year, we present three main objectives - brand awareness, growth and retention, and financial sustainability. Meanwhile, we will propose to the world a new mindset in which we assume our responsibility through the declaration of human duties. Through these goals, we want to show the world that leading today is not only an option or a right. However, as JCI members, we understand that it is our only option if we want to create a better world. Leading is our duty, it is the goal for this year, and I am happy to be part of your team on that mission."

What is APDC?

The JCI ASIA PACIFIC DEVELOPMENT (JCI APDC) was established based on the spirit of exchanging knowledge among National Organizations in order to increase their momentum and facilitate the achievement of sound, rapid and healthy growth within their own territories, while positively contributing to the overall growth of Junior Chamber International. Thus, JCI APDC should symbolize the brother and sisterhood of National Organizations in the Asia and the Pacific Area and be the embodiment of their determination to expand JCI.

And the main purposes of JCI APDC were:

1. Assist the JCI Board of Directors in promoting the aims of the JCI movement.
2. Identify areas where the JCI movement can be furthered and/or introduced, as well as the challenges and obstacles that may be associated with such actions.
3. Contribute to the promotion of the training component of JCI in the region through supporting National Organizations in developing and sharing trainings, as well as facilitating communications among National Organizations
4. On an annual basis, coordinate the mutual efforts of National Organizations in order to achieve specific development targets.

5. Exchange the best practices of different National Organizations and use them for development purposes.
6. Assist National Organizations, whenever required, with the internal development and training of officers on a long-term basis.

The Assigned Countries of JCI APDC 2021-2022

1. Myanmar
2. New Zealand
3. Vietnam (Graduated at 2021 World Congress)
4. Sri Lanka
5. Timor-Leste
